2017 Hispanic Heritage Month
¡Latinos STEM Up!
Hosted by NASA’s Hispanic Outreach and Leadership Alliance (HOLA)
Thursday, October 12, 2017
10–11:30 a.m.
NASA Headquarters | Webb Auditorium
300 E Street SW, Washington, DC 20546
For questions and to RSVP, please e-mail HQ-HOLA@mail.nasa.gov

Join us as we discuss the importance of Hispanic representation in STEM education and STEM careers.

Dr. Marla Pérez-Davis
Deputy Center Director
NASA Glenn Research Center

Dr. Yaireska Collado-Vega
Physical Scientist
NASA Goddard Space Flight Center

Dr. Carolina Aguirre
Director
Reaching Rural STEM Students
University of New Mexico

Sandra Alba Cauffman
Deputy Director, Earth Science Division, Science Mission Directorate
NASA Headquarters

Marilé Colón Robles
Education Outreach Coordinator
NASA Langley Research Center

Jose Antonio Tijerino
President and CEO
Hispanic Heritage Foundation

Opening Remarks
Dr. Frank Rubio
2017 Astronaut Candidate

Moderator
Elvis Cordova
Former Acting Under Secretary
U.S. Department of Agriculture

In partnership with the Equal Opportunity and Diversity Management Division